Singapore JewellFest was back for its 12th instalment, showcasing close to S$300 million in fine jewellery

Visitors had a first-hand peek at the iconic Buddha-cut diamond haute joaillerie collection from Schreiner Fine Jewellery. Another German fine jeweller, Hans D Krieger, showcased his superb range of diamond pieces in different colours, cuts and carat sizes. IVY New York displayed some of their exceptional pieces, as did Italian brands Verdi, Zydo and Oro Trend. Japan's Tosa was a standout for its collector's grade coral pieces. Designers from Hong Kong also set the high jewellery bar high — Baer Jewels with unique-cut gems, Dily's with its exquisite creations and attention to detail, and Continental Diamond's with luxurious fine jewellery collections. Last but not least, Singapore's finest was well-represented, with The Jewel Box, Jaipore Jewels and Sara Tasser.
